Ranking Member
Subcommittee on Labor, HHS and Education
Committee on Appropriations
U.S. House of Representatives

Dear Chairman Obey and Ranking Member Tiahrt:

The undersigned organizations write to urge you to fund fully the health professions education programs by providing at least $550 million for the Title VII health professions programs and the Title VIII nursing workforce development programs in the FY 2010 Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education Appropriations bill. This appropriations level is needed if these programs are to fulfill their shared mission of improving the supply, distribution, and diversity of health professionals nationwide. This investment also is consistent with the President's pledge to invest in strengthening the nation's health workforce.

In FY 2006, funding for the Title VII programs was drastically reduced by 51 percent, causing programs across the nation to cease their activities. We are pleased that the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act and the FY 2009 Omnibus Appropriations bill take an important step toward reversing the underfunding of these essential programs. Many of the programs, however, did not receive significant increases and are still funded at levels much lower than they have been in previous years, despite recent evidence that they are effective tools.

A December 2008 Institute of Medicine report characterized HRSA's health professions programs as "an undervalued asset." Additionally, recent studies in peer-reviewed journals such as Academic Medicine, Mount Sinai Journal of Medicine, Annals of Family Medicine, and American Journal of Public Health underscore the significant positive impact that Title VII and VIII funding has on students, and subsequently on the populations that these health professionals treat.

While we understand that there are many competing priorities in the FY 2010 appropriations bill, it is essential that Congress renew its commitment to the health professions programs to help resolve systemic workforce shortages and deliver care to our nation's most vulnerable communities. Supporting the Title VII and VIII programs is an investment in the health professions workforce and the health of the nation. We urge you to fully fund the Title VII and VIII programs in the FY 2010 Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education bill.

Your support is greatly appreciated. We look forward to working with you to ensure the continuation of congressional support for these critical programs that are necessary to preserving the health and well-being of the American people.

Sincerely,
