
Harmonizing Financial Disclosures in Biomedical Journals: A Shared Responsibility February 12, 2019

AGENDA

- 8:00 a.m. Breakfast
- 9:00 a.m. Welcome from the AAMC
Darrell Kirch, President and Chief Executive Officer, AAMC
- 9:15 a.m. Perspectives from a Decade of Disclosure Discussions
Heather Pierce, Senior Director and Regulatory Counsel, AAMC
Phil Fontanarosa, Executive Editor, JAMA
Clifford Hudis, Chief Executive Officer, ASCO
- 10:15 a.m. Lightning Round – Ground-Breaking Ideas
- 10:30 a.m. Break
- 10:45 a.m. Session 1: Harmonizing Financial Disclosures across Biomedical Journals

Framing comments by Helen Burstin, Executive Vice President and Chief Executive Officer, CMSS

During this session, attendees will discuss the current state of disclosure requirements and how to facilitate and encourage the complete and accurate disclosure of outside financial interests in biomedical publications.
- 11:45 p.m. Lunch
- 12:30 p.m. Session 2: The Relevance of “Relevant” Financial Interests

Framing comments by Christine Laine, Editor-in-Chief, Annals of Internal Medicine

During this session, attendees will discuss various approaches in addressing the disclosure of financial interests by authors and the application of the concept of “relevance” to the determination of which financial interests must be disclosed.

Harmonizing Financial Disclosures in Biomedical Journals: A Shared Responsibility
February 12, 2019

1:15 p.m. Session 3: Shared Responsibility and Accountability

Framing comments by Eric Cottingham, Senior Vice President for Research and Technology Management, MSK, and David Raiford, Senior Associate Dean for Faculty Affairs, Vanderbilt School of Medicine

During this session, attendees will discuss how academic institutions, journals, societies, and authors should work together to maintain public trust in the value and integrity of research through a community-wide effort that facilitates and expects full and complete disclosure.

2:30 p.m. Break

2:45 pm Developing Principles and Recommendations: A Shared Effort

Attendees will reflect on the discussions throughout the day to agree upon common themes, areas that need addressing, and concrete next steps.

3:30 p.m. Adjourn