2/16/2012 11:57:04	Yes	Administrative/Webmaster	Yes	Student Affairs Resources
2/16/2012 12:14:15	Yes	Students	students request access to the website and student-admins give permission, connected to gmail	Academic Resources	Some study charts or study guides that students make and upload to the site might have copyright issues with images and diagrams etc. so we keep our website fully controlled and viewable by students only. Our website is mainly for academic resource sharing purposes.
2/16/2012 12:40:48	Yes	Administrative/Webmaster, Students , Combination	No	Academic Resources, Student Affairs Resources, Marketplace, Housing Information, Student Write-ups/Newspaper content	We had a password protected website that was extremely cumbersome to use. We are transitioning to a website www.eventmedley.com as our one stop source for all things academic/student
2/16/2012 12:44:02	Yes	Students	Yes	Academic Resources, Student Affairs Resources	We have a student created and run website in addition to the official website from the administration. The administration's website is more for feedback and grade release. The student run page is where collegues share links, resources, study aids, etc.
2/16/2012 13:12:24	Yes	Combination	Parts of it (please explain in other!)	Academic Resources, Student Affairs Resources, Marketplace, Housing Information	consider sending out a short survey to gauge the needs/wants of students - and make it simple, not cluttered!

2/16/2012 14:25:19	Yes	Administrative/Webmaster	Yes	Academic Resources, Student Affairs Resources, Marketplace, Our entire curriculum (including powerpoints from lecture), as well as required assignments and quizzes are on our portal.	I think its crucial for med schools to have a portal. We depend on ours. I'd recommend that the administration be in charge of your future one, that way all pertinent information can be available in a single source. - CWRU SOM
