

The Health Professions and Nursing Education Coalition (HPNEC) presents:

How HRSA Health Workforce Programs Address Today's Public Health Concerns: Opioids, Rural Access, Health Equity, and Preventative Medicine

Tuesday, November 28

12-2pm

Rayburn House Office Building, Room 2044

Lunch will be provided at this widely attended event

Please RSVP to hgollopp@aamc.org

Current and looming provider shortages have made responding to today's public health threats even more difficult. The Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) Title VII health professions and Title VIII nursing workforce development programs work to increase the supply, distribution, and diversity of the health care workforce, and prepares providers to respond to new and emerging health crises. This luncheon briefing will focus on how Title VII and VIII grantees are helping patients with opioid use disorders, increasing access to care for rural communities, practicing preventative medicine, and promoting health equity.

Featured

Speakers:

Marianna Footo-Linz, Ph.D

Chair, Department of Psychology
Marshall University

Juanita Garcia, M.Ed., R.N., Ph.D.

Project BEYOND-2 Coordinator
Marquette University College of Nursing

Yalda Jabbarpour, M.D.

Assistant Professor
Georgetown University School of Medicine

Karen Fisher, JD

(Moderator)
Chief Public Policy Officer
Association of American Medical Colleges