Medical School Finance Tables and Graphs	NA	NA	6/15/2026	No respondents	anees@aamc.org	The Medical School Finance Tables and Graphs on the AAMC public website are generated annually using the aggregate data collected from LCME Part I-A Annual Financial Questionnaire. The data displayed include revenue of U.S. medical schools by revenue source, percent change in revenue by source, and trends in medical school revenue. The tables and graphs can be found at https://www.aamc.org/data/finance/.
Medical School IT Survey	10/15/2025	12/3/2025	3/31/2026	GIR Medical School Representatives	girsurvey@aamc.org	In even years, the Medical School IT Survey collects information about IT services at medical schools, such as leadership organization, reporting structure, budget, staffing, and services. In odd years, the survey collects information about IT applications used at medical schools for administrative, educational, clinical, research, regulatory/compliance management, and security purposes. GIR Medical School Representatives at participating medical schools receive a data file of responses. Additional information is at https://www.aamc.org/professional-development/affinity-groups/gir/medical-school-it-survey.
Medical School Profile Report	NA	NA	7/16/2025	No respondents	afq@aamc.org	The Medical School Profile Report (MSPR) presents information on medical school finances, faculty counts, and students. The annual report is available to medical school deans, PBOs, and other medical school staff designated by the dean or PBO to have access to confidential financial reports for all medical schools with full LCME accreditation.
Operations Management Survey	Does not field this year	Does not field this year	Does not field this year	Principal Business Officer	omt@aamc.org	The Operations Management Survey (OMS) Survey collects practice plan financial information, sponsored programs, and other financial indicators. Participating medical schools receive the data in a customized report—the Operations Management Tool (OMT). The OMT presents current information through percentile rankings and a dynamic cohort tool. The OMT also presents trend information. The OMS and OMT are on an every-three-year cycle (i.e., the survey and report will be distributed in one year, the following two years will have no survey or report, and the survey and report will be distributed again in the following year). The next OMS will be made available to eligible medical schools in fiscal year 2026-2027.
Regional Medical Campus Survey	Does not field this year	Does not field this year	Does not field this year	Regional Campus Deans	kmcowen@aamc.org	The Regional Medical Campus Survey collects information on regional medical campuses at medical schools in the U.S. and Canada. The data collected include the year the campus was established, its primary purpose, the curriculum, administrative structure, numbers and types of faculty, and student affairs characteristics. A summary report will be emailed directly to survey participants and available on the AAMC public website (www.aamc.org). The Regional Medical Campus Survey and its summary report will be on an every-five-year cycle.

Medical School Graduation Questionnaire	2/14/2026	6/7/2026	7/31/2026	Graduating students respond to the survey and AAMC Student Surveys contacts at the medical schools are asked to help promote the survey	gq@aamc.org	The Medical School Graduation Questionnaire (GQ) Report is a tool U.S. medical schools use annually to evaluate programs and to improve the medical student experience. Information on the educational experiences, career intentions, specialty preference, and indebtedness of graduating medical students is obtained using the Medical School Graduation Questionnaire (GQ). The last three years of the national report are publicly available at https://www.aamc.org/data/gq/. Medical school personnel designated by the Dean of Student Affairs as student surveys contacts receive school-specific and (if applicable) campus-specific reports.
Medical School Year Two Questionnaire	10/1/2025	1/4/2026	3/31/2026	Year two students respond to the survey and AAMC Student Surveys contacts at the medical schools are asked to help promote the survey	y2q@aamc.org	The Medical School Year Two Questionnaire (Y2Q) Report is a tool U.S. medical schools use annually to evaluate programs and to improve the medical student experience. Information on the learning climate, adjustment to medical school, specialty preference, and future career plans of students in year two of medical school is obtained using the Medical School Year Two Questionnaire (Y2Q). The last three years of the national report are publicly available at https://www.aamc.org/data/y2q. Medical school personnel designated by the Dean of Student Affairs as student surveys contacts receive school-specific and (if applicable) campus-specific reports.
Primary Care Loan Report	NA	NA	6/30/2026	No respondents	first@aamc.org	The Primary Care Loan Report informs financial aid offices about the whereabouts and specialty focus of the medical school's graduates. The information in this report is used to support reporting of primary care training and practice to the federal government. That information determines whether a graduate is in compliance with their Primary Care Loan repayment process. Schools use these data to complete their Annual Operating Report (AOR), as required by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA). School-specific reports are distributed to each medical school's primary financial aid administrator.
Report on Residents	NA	NA	11/14/2025	No respondents	residentreport@aamc.org	The Report on Residents is an online collection of data tables that provide information on certain characteristics of residency applicants and residents, as well as information on the outcomes of residents. This annual report pulls data from multiple sources to create tables that focus on issues across states, specialties, and phases of the GME continuum. The report is publicly available at https://www.aamc.org/data-reports/students-residents/report/report-residents.
Resident Readiness Survey	1/2/2026	3/16/2026	4/24/2026	GME Program Directors and Coordinators	residentreadiness@aamc.org	The Resident Readiness Survey (RRS) is a project that invites program directors to share information about their residents' readiness for graduate medical education. The RRS is a national, standardized feedback system from residency program directors to medical schools, providing benefits to schools, programs, and medical education. The RRS streamlines and centralizes the reporting process so that programs are not receiving multiple surveys from different schools, and schools receive more consistent outcomes data regarding their graduates. Designated personnel at participating schools receive school-specific reports. Data summaries, including data broken out by specialty, are available publicly at https://www.aamc.org/data-reports/students-residents/report/rrs-project.

Student Records System (SRS)	Continuous	Continuous	Continuous	Medical School Registrars	enserv@aamc.org	The Student Records System (SRS) houses secure, centralized enrollment information on the U.S. MD student population and tracks student progress from matriculation through graduation. SRS is continuously open, but medical schools complete three yearly tasks in SRS: the SRS Graduation Certification, the SRS Class Promotions, and the SRS M1 Certification. The SRS Graduation Certification is due the last business day in June, and registrars confirm all students graduating from their institution, as well as their PGY-1 plan information. The SRS Class Promotions are due towards the end of August, and registrars promote each of their class levels to the next year. The M1 Certification is due in mid-October, and registrars are asked to certify their first-year matriculants. Select enrollment and graduate data from SRS are available on the AAMC FACTS website at https://www.aamc.org/data-reports/students-residents/report/facts.
