

CFAS-Member Society Meeting Plans, 2021–2022

CFAS informally queried its member societies on their plans for in-person vs. virtual meetings for the remainder of 2021 and looking ahead to 2022. This table compiles the responses. If you would like to add your society plans to this summary, please email them Eric Weissman at <mailto:eweissman@aamc.org>.

Society Name	2021 Plan	2022 Plan	Comments
American Society for Pharmacology & Experimental Therapeutics	Virtual Meeting in April 2021	April in person meeting in 2022	No formal statements, other than posting that next year's ASPET meeting (hosted by the annual Experimental Biology conference) will be held in Philadelphia on the ASPET website
American Academy of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation	All live events through 2021 Q3 canceled, but are still moving ahead and plan to have an Annual Assembly in November in Nashville	Anticipating the remainder of the educational courses will resume in 2022 Q1
Association of Pathology Chairs	APC is holding its 2021 annual meeting virtually in July	APC is planning to hold three smaller meetings, with targeted audiences and purposes, face-to-face in January 2022	In January, we cancelled plans to hold this meeting in a hybrid format (offered face to face for those who would travel) due largely to the uncertainty of travel policies and budgets at academic medical centers. It would be encouraging to our members to have AAMC demonstrate support for in person meetings by holding their own meetings again in person.

American Association for Anatomy	AAA is still considering a fall board meeting in person and will make a final decision on whether to move forward or not by mid-summer	The 2022 annual meeting will be held in person in Philly in April.
American College of Physicians	ACP just held its large annual Internal Medicine Meeting Virtual Experience a week ago. For the rest of 2021, a decision has recently been made to conduct all committee and council meetings virtually. We have several courses scheduled throughout 2021, and these are currently slated to be delivered in a virtual format.	No decision has yet been made about ACP's 2022 Annual Internal Medicine meeting to be held in April 2022.
American College of Academic Addiction Medicine	ACAAM is hosting a virtual annual meeting on June 9. They are holding an in-person Board meeting in Sept., but did not feel like they could hold something with the full constituency in-person this year due to the uncertainty still out there.	The board has made the decision to host an in-person event of some kind in late winter (eg, early 2022).
American Association of Directors of	Virtual meeting in 2021	The American Association of Directors of Psychiatric Residency Training	Members immediate concern is how residency interviews will take place this fall.

Psychiatric Residency Training		plans an in-person meeting next March.	My own sense is that a program should have the opportunity for either all in person interviews or all virtual interviews.
International Association of Medical Science Educators	Fully virtual for June 2021 conference	Planning to be in-person in Denver in June of 2022.
Association of Professors of Gynecology and Obstetrics	All APGO meetings are virtual through Labor Day (this includes several committee meetings and the Board of Directors summer meeting).	Planning to hold their two conferences in 1Q 2022 in person, possibly with a hybrid option. They have not issued formal notice or policies on this as of yet.
American Chemical Society (not a CFAS member, but information was passed along by a CFAS rep who is a member)	The American Chemical Society will be holding its Fall 2021 in a hybrid format. They are giving the option to participants and speakers to be in the conference center in Atlanta or participate virtually.		Of course, this does not mean that people will be able to attend the conferences in person even if they want to travel. There are academic institutions that won't be reimbursing travel to conferences or meetings until further notice.
Association of Chairs of Departments of Physiology	The Association of Chairs of Departments of Physiology (ACDP) is planning to be in-person for its December 2021 retreat.
Society of University Otolaryngologists	Society of University Otolaryngologists is planning a live meeting in Phoenix Nov 12-13

Society of General Internal Medicine	SGIM plans to have virtual regional meetings in the fall.	They have not yet decided whether to resume having in-person regional meetings after January 1, 2022 but are hoping to have an in-person possibly hybrid national meeting in April 2022.
Academic Consortium for Integrative Medicine & Health	Just held a virtual event in April.	They plan to hold our International Congress in-person in May 2022. They will likely have a virtual option for the plenary sessions.
Association of Professors of Medicine		The Association of Professors of Medicine is planning to hold our annual winter meeting in early March 2022 in Tucson. We normally wouldn't have any other meetings this year.
Alliance for Academic Internal Medicine	The AAIM Board of Directors approved a plan for all meetings (conferences, business meeting and governance-related meetings) to be held virtually through December 2021.	AAIM will resume in-person meetings in calendar year 2022, starting with the Association of Professors of Medicine (APM) Winter Meeting, scheduled to be held in Tucson, AZ, March 2-5, 2022. All other regular meetings and conferences will be held in person in 2022 and beyond unless	Business-related travel for staff remains restricted through December 2021, except for emergent needs.

American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry	American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry is still planning to meet in person in October 2021 in Atlanta although there are monthly meetings which continue to discuss the possibility. At best it is likely to be blended.
Society of Academic Urologists	Tentatively thinking of in person meetings in Aug-Sept and into the fall but very tenuous. Strong chance of being canceled or being converted to virtual or small meeting that is hybrid.
The Society for Academy Continuing Medical Education	The Society for Academic Continuing Medical Education is holding its next meeting virtually again (hopefully just one more time).	The conference will be held in February of 2022.
American Academy of Addiction Psychiatry	AAAP has decided to hold their annual meeting in DEC totally virtual
Association of Academic Health Sciences Libraries	AAHSL didn't publish a statement on the web, but they are holding a virtual meeting in the fall.		The AAHSL meeting is a pre-conference for LSL, and when AAMC went virtual, AAHSL followed suit.

American Society for Biochemistry and Molecular Biology	The ASBMB just had its big virtual meeting for 2021 as part of Experimental Biology and have all virtual meetings planned for the rest of 2021.	They are hoping for in-person meetings in 2022.
AcademyHealth	AcademyHealth just decided with NIH a few weeks ago to keep its December meeting on the Science of Dissemination and Implementation in Health virtual. We will be in person for the June Annual Research Meeting – not hybrid.	Leadership met in May with our Board Exec Committee and at this point we are leaning toward staying virtual for our Feb 2022 National Health Policy Conference/Health Datapalooza.
Association of Academic Physiatrists	The AAP meeting is in the winter generally Feb/March. We just finished virtual a few months ago.	Planning in-person only in 2022
American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology	ACOG just had its Annual Clinical meeting virtually. Most other District meeting have been held virtually as well.
Society of Teachers of Family Medicine	STFM holds three large educational conferences a year, and these have all been moved to virtual for 2021. We also shifted all of our board, committee, and leadership fellowship meetings to virtual through August 2021.	We hope to bring back our first in-person conference for 600 people in late January 2022.	Receiving PPP funds in 2021 and a tax credit for staff retention in 2020 have helped their financials tremendously. They expect to finish the year in the black in 2021.

	They have three small STFM groups of 20 or less gathering in-person for meetings in the 3rd and 4th Q of 2021.
