   What does this role pivot in SDA signal for the practice of DEI in medical education?

   What do you need from the GSA and/or COSDA given today's discussion?

16:28:22   Irena Tartakovsky, AAMC, she/her:

   What does this role pivot in SDA signal for the practice of DEI in medical education?

16:32:45   Jerome Wright:

   it sounds like that question only applies to people who has had that experience

16:34:55   Kasan Jones:

   Same as Ms. Jennie, we also have created a diversity committee and a few sub committees to do the groundwork for our website and building our resources page. There is also a lot of community sharing of resources so that all have a similar message throughout the community which I think is good especially for educational institutions

16:53:38   Nicole Stern:

   I would emphasize the need for top-down recognition of these issues

16:53:52   Wendy Jackson:

   Is there a database of speakers?

16:54:24   Sandra Quezada:

   Yes! We discussed how the LCME 3.3 should include requirements on support staff and budgets for DEI officers

16:55:12   Malika Siker:

   1/3 Establish best practices for staffing, resources, and tool kits for the topics we are having to pivot too.

16:55:21   Malika Siker:

   2/3 Advocate for accrediting/licensing bodies to "put teeth" into diversity standards

16:55:54   Princess Latasha Currence:

   Malika: Definitely! a toolkit has been discussed

16:55:55   Malika Siker:

   3/3 Virtual community for COSDA. Leverage the AAMC virtual community site for COSDA members for real time support.

16:56:42   Melanie Cosby:

   Love that! Every area: every Standard can and should address.

16:57:51   David H. Garcia (He, Him, His):

   It needs to be in our DNA.

16:58:05   Sunshine Nakae:

   @Wendy I want to echo this comment. COSDA could create a speaker database for people within our professional group that have expertise and can-do training, talks, workshops, etc.
