

Join the GCEC Virtual Community!

In order to join the GCEC Virtual Community, you must first create an AAMC Virtual Communities login, if you do not already have one. Please note that the GCEC Virtual Community is a space designed for current GCEC members.

Follow these instructions to create an account and join:

Welcome to AAMC Communities!

1. Visit the AAMC Virtual Communities and select the Not Registered Yet? Request an Account button at the bottom of the login prompt (as shown in the image below).

- 2. On the Request an Account page, complete your account information. All fields marked with the red asterisk (*) are required.
- 3. The username is your email address. (Note: The Virtual Communities platform is separate from your OneAAMC account. However, for consistency, you can use the same email address and password when creating your Virtual Communities account.)
- 4. Although not marked as required, please fill out the Job Function line so we can recommend communities that might be the best fit for you.

5. For Which community (or communities) are you trying to join?, please select Group on Collaboration, Engagement, and Community (GCEC) from the drop-down menu.

Which community (or communities) are yo volume (which communities) are you trying to join?

- 6. Select Sign In to complete your AAMC Communities account.
- 7. It can take up to 2-3 business days for the account to be approved. After the AAMC Communities account is approved, you will receive a welcome email.

Ask your IT department or vendor to add the following domain to your organization's allow list: connectedcommunity.org.

8. Once you're approved, you will receive a weekly digest from the GCEC Community. Please adjust your settings (video) to your preference under the profile tab. By default, you will be added to the Academic Medicine Open Forum Community.
