

Ad Hoc Group Weekly Round Up – July 3, 2017

Each week, the Ad Hoc Group Weekly Round Up will feature hashtags and/or tweets (follow us at @fundNIH) suggested by members of the National Institutes of Health (NIH) advocacy community. We encourage all readers who are active on social media to use these messages, and welcome suggestions from the community for future issues of the Weekly Round Up. Here's this week's featured tweet:

Society for Neuroscience (@SfNtweets)

"A cut to NIH is not a cut to Washington bureaucracy — it is a cut to life-saving treatments and cures."

1. House Finds Budget Resistance before Departing for Recess

Prior to departing for the Fourth of July recess, some press outlets reported that the House Tuesday Group, a group of centrist Republicans, voiced their opposition to a budget resolution that fails to increase spending caps and calls for cutting entitlement spending. As of Friday, sources say the letter obtained the support of 20 members.

2. FasterCures Convenes “Partnering for Cures” in Boston and San Francisco

Since 2009, Partnering for Cures (P4C) has been convening leaders with the experience, creativity, and motivation needed to transform the medical research system. The event is convened annually by FasterCures, a center of the Milken Institute, and connects decision-makers from across diseases who are motivated by the same mission – to reduce the time and cost of getting new therapies from discovery to patients. FasterCures is taking P4C on the road and convening a smaller, cross-sector group of medical research leaders twice – once in Boston and once in San Francisco. Registration is now open for P4C Boston on July 12 and P4C San Francisco on Nov. 14. Find out more information at <http://www.partneringforcures.org/>.

3. Congressional Briefing, Screening, and Poster Session for Dry Eye Awareness Month

On July 12, the Alliance for Eye and Vision Research (AEVR), in conjunction with the Tear Film & Ocular Surface Society (TFOS), will host a Capitol Hill luncheon briefing from noon to 1:15 p.m. in 2168 Rayburn House Office Building (Gold Room). The briefing will feature a panel discussion on the just-released TFOS Dry Eye Workshop II (TFOS DEWS II™) Report on Dry Eye Incidence, Diagnosis, and Treatment. A “Test Your Tears” screening and poster session will coincide with the luncheon briefing from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. For more information, please see the attached flyer. To RSVP, contact Dina Beaumont (202-407-8325 or dinabeau@aol.com).

4. Congressional Biomedical Research Caucus: NIH 101

Join the Coalition for the Life Sciences and the Congressional Biomedical Research Caucus for an NIH 101 briefing featuring Keith Yamamoto, PhD, from the University of California, San Francisco. The briefing will provide an overview of the NIH peer review process and the types of grants funded by the agency. In addition, Dr. Yamamoto will discuss how NIH sets research priorities and solicits input from the scientific community and the public. This briefing will take place on Friday, July 14 from noon to 1:00 p.m. in 2043 Rayburn House Office Building. Boxed lunches will be available for attendees. RSVP by visiting www.coalitionforlifesciences.org/events/ or emailing cls@coalitionforlifesciences.org. More info on the attached flyer.

5. Golden Goose Awards

The Golden Goose Awards celebrate the stories of how basic research delivers major societal impacts – from NIH-funded massages for baby rats that changed how we treat premature babies (and saved billions in health care costs) to the once canceled NIH-funded adolescent health study that informs everything from school curricula to public health programs. Each year, three teams of researchers are showcased through written stories and documentary videos, and honored with an award ceremony in Washington, DC each fall. The award depends on the support of partners in the science community, and more than twenty different organizations in our community and beyond contribute each year. Attached are the 2017 Golden Goose Award Sponsorship opportunities (also on the Golden Goose Awards website). The deadline for sponsoring is Sept 6.

6. Join the 2017 Rally for Medical Research Hill Day: Sept 13-14

Registration for the Rally for Medical Research is now open. For five consecutive years, the Rally for Medical Research Hill Day's has raised awareness during a critical time about the urgent need for an increased investment in the NIH to improve health, spur more progress, inspire more hope and save more lives. The Rally for Medical Research Hill Day is scheduled to take place on Thursday, Sept. 14, in Washington D.C. A reception will take place on Wednesday, Sept. 13 on Capitol Hill from 5:30 to 7:30 pm following a Hill Day training session at 3:00 pm at the Grand Hyatt. Additionally, a hotel room block has been reserved on a first come, first served basis at the Grand Hyatt, Washington DC. Specific questions may be directed to info@rallyformedicalresearch.org and for organizations interested in sponsoring the event, more information is available at: <http://rallyformedicalresearch.org/Pages/Hill-Day-Sponsors-2017.aspx>. Follow the Rally on Twitter @RallyforNIH or join the group on Facebook <https://www.facebook.com/RallyMedRes/>

7. Job Opening: Communications Manager at FASEB

The Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology (FASEB), a non-profit scientific organization, seeks a Communications Manager to develop, implement, and maintain a comprehensive public relations program for the Office of Public Affairs, including managing FASEB social media accounts and programs. A position description is available on FASEB's website. Applications can be submitted online through the FASEB Employment Opportunities portal. NOTE: this position is different than the Director of Communications opportunity that was advertised in April.

Please Note: If you have information of interest to the NIH advocacy community that you would like to share with the Ad Hoc Group, please forward it to Joe Bañez at jbanez@aamc.org or Tannaz Rasouli at trasouli@aamc.org.
