GDI Mission
The Group on Diversity and Inclusion (GDI) serves as a national forum and recognized resource to support the efforts of AAMC member institutions and academic medicine at the local, regional, and national levels to realize the benefits of diversity and inclusion in medicine and biomedical sciences.

GDI Purpose
The purpose of the GDI is to unite expertise, experience, and innovation to inform and guide the advancement of diversity and inclusion throughout academic medicine.

GDI Members

Designated Representative: The Dean designates one faculty or administrator who has responsibility for institutional multicultural or diversity affairs. In the role, the designated representative should focus on the GDI strategic priorities. Designee will serve as the primary contact to AAMC on these issues.

Individual Representatives: The Dean is encouraged to look across the institution and recommend individuals who have strong expertise and interest in minority/multicultural/diversity affairs.

GDI Strategic Priorities
The GDI has three national priorities:
- Diversity and Inclusion in Faculty
- Diversity and Inclusion in Graduate Medical Education
- Diversity and Inclusion in Professional Development/Institutional Climate

GDI Get Involved
As a GDI representative, you are important in contributing to the success of GDI. Here are ways to get involved:
- Volunteer to develop and implement GDI national priorities, which include initiatives, projects, and meetings
- Serve on GDI working groups or planning committees as needed
- Participate in discussions on the GDI Listserv by posting and responding to your colleagues’ queries
- Attend the GDI Professional Development Conference and AAMC Annual Meeting
- Provide feedback to your GDI Steering Committee on how they can best serve your needs as a GDI representative

GDI Resources

- GDI Listserv
The GDI Listserv is a private tool of the group that serves as an ideas exchange between members.

- Academic Medicine GDI Reading Collection
This features articles and reports about diversity and inclusion in medical schools and teaching hospitals from the AAMC’s peer reviewed journal.

- GDI Webinars and Webcasts
This series features presentations on important topics in academic medicine.

- Orientation Guide
This user-friendly guide helps orient GDI representatives to better understand the AAMC and GDI’s infrastructures.
