- Have participants in each small group count off in fives (should have 3 groups of 6 participants and 2 groups of 5 participants). Each small group should have two volunteers. One to serve as the scribe and the other the presenter. Groups may decide to select multiple volunteers to present what they discussed in their small groups that is fine.
- Provide each group with a copy of the small group processing questions.
- Provide each person in each group – Scribe with the Scribe’s Document to capture their group’s responses
- Use timer to stay on task and allow sufficient time for all participants to return to the larger group to debrief the activity.

Cultural Competency – Examining Concepts of Privilege Workshop

• Ask each small group to present out on ONE of the questions they feel most comfortable sharing o Rotate through each group. Allow any groups who want to share a response to the selected processing questions to share.
    ▪ Allow for Q&A from the larger group members/facilitator and open dialogue to take place. It is important to create an environment of intellectual discourse and exploration of cognitive diversity.
  o Once each of the small groups have shared, ask another group to start round two by identifying another question they are comfortable with sharing what their group discussed and ensure any groups who want to participate in round two, participate.
  o We will NOT be able to get to all the small groups or process all of the questions in the Larger Group setting – this is why we had the small group process all the question to ensure that some type of dialogue among peers took place. If time permits, ask the groups to select a third question they are comfortable with sharing their group’s responses, so on and so forth until about 5 minutes is left 3:15pm and conclude with facilitator’s concluding remarks.

FACILITATOR’S CONCLUDING REMARKS:
• We can’t do “oppression algebra” where our oppressions and privileges across multiple identities cancel out to some ‘net’ oppression or privilege score! It’s both/and.
• This activity is meant to BEGIN the larger conversations of So What and Now
• To explore ways that we have privileges based on being members of social identity groups in the United States.
• The exercise seeks to highlight the fact that everyone has SOME privilege, even as some people have more privilege than others. By illuminating our various privileges as individuals, we can recognize ways that we can use our privileges individually and collectively to work in clinical settings and impact the level of care we provide to our patients.
