Curriculum Inventory Upload Season is Open Until September 30, 2018

We are in the midst of the Curriculum Inventory (CI) upload season! Your CI School Portal will remain open until September 30, 2018.

A number of schools have completed the process of uploading and verifying their CI data this year; congratulations and thank you for your early participation! Many others have uploaded their data and are in the midst of the verification process. If you need assistance in the verification process, or have feedback about the new verification report format, please do not hesitate to reach out to ci@aamc.org.

Your CI submission includes the previous year’s academic year, so your reporting start date will be no earlier than July 1, 2017, and your reporting end date will be no later than June 30, 2018.

A number of new medical schools have reached out to AAMC about participating in the CI, and we are so excited to see such enthusiasm. If you are a new medical school, or a medical school new to participating in the CI, please don’t hesitate to reach out with any questions you may have.

Many schools are currently in the midst of curriculum renewal. This may mean you have a unique and interesting data set for this year. As an example, if your curriculum renewal included a new set of program learning objectives, you may have one set of curriculum inventory data nested under the previous program objectives, and another set of curriculum inventory data nested under the new set of program objectives. We have some creative solutions in place to help you submit your CI data without creating an onerous amount of work. We’ve helped with role transitions, curricular mergers, updating Resources, and performing calculations of submitted data to supplement the verification process. If any of these situations or other situations apply to your school, and you’d like to know how we can help, please reach out for assistance.

If you are beginning the CI submission process for this year, we have an outline of steps to help get you started here.

Our next CI webinar is set for October 10, 2018 at 1:00pm EST. You can register for upcoming CI webinars and view past CI webinars here. The CI website holds a number of resources that may be helpful to you in preparing and using your CI data. If you have suggestions about additional resources desired, or have trouble locating a needed resource, please as always reach out to ci@aamc.org.

Onward!
